

INT. MADAGASKAA FORTRESS -- CONTINUOUS

Mongo scurries up and down the halls, bellowing!

MONGO
What is going on?!!

Another door opens, it is Nwa-beke's sleeping chamber. She pokes her head out, her wiry hair is in curlers and she has a white face mask and is wearing a bathrobe.

NWA-BEKE
What are you screaming about?!!

MONGO
Something's wrong! I can feel it!
I can smell it!

Mongo disappears in his rage, going down the staircase to the dungeon.

MONGO (O.S.) (CONT'D)
I knew it!!!

The sound of thumping as he bounds back up the stairs.

MONGO (CONT'D)
SHE'S GONE!!!

NWA-BEKE
Whaaaaaaaaa? Hold on.

Nwa-beke disappears behind her door, then very quickly comes back out fully dressed and looking like her regular hag self.

All right! Let me do a quick scan.

She conjures up her fog to create her magic smoke screen. She activates it, and it shows a bird's eye view of outside the fortress from high altitude. She waves her hands left and right to "scroll" through the view.

Nothing here...nothing... Let me look at the beach...

The scene changes to overlooking the beach. There are some sand trails leading to the ocean.

This is irregular...

She zooms in across the sea, scrolling faster and faster to cover many miles.

MONGO
What's taking so long?

NWA-BEKE
Ugh! This app is too slow. You try scrolling through kilometers of ocean!
Wait!

She spots something and zooms in to the image of a small raft. She can see the four men on the raft and a large sack.

MONGO
Maybe fishermen? That one guy has dreads -- definitely a fisherman type.

NWA-BEKE
Do fishermen choose a cheap raft instead of a sensible boat? I think not.

She zooms in more, almost as if using an iPhone, her fingers spreading apart to zoom in. The image ends up showing Agama on Lamont's shoulder.

Aha! I recognize that pathetic creature! You will die today, Lizard!

MONGO
What?

NWA-BEKE
It's that blasted lizard that Jet Black kept as a pet! Don't you pay attention?

MONGO
I figured once we had her locked up, we didn't need to worry about her.

NWA-BEKE
No wonder I was the one always making sure to feed her! I guess I have to think of everything!

Nwa-beke puts her fingers in her mouth and lets out a loud whistle. Her magic carpet comes flying into the room.

Hop on, Mongo. It's time for Warp Factor One.

Mongo and Nwa-beke hop on the magic carpet. She gestures with her hand pointing towards a window in the direction they want to go.

Engage!

The carpet flies out through the window.

EXT. JUNGLE -- DAY

The carpet with Mongo and Nwa-beke flies above the jungle at super speed. This causes a shockwave as they break the sound barrier, and trees become uprooted, flying back as if a hurricane hit them.

ON THE CARPET

Mongo's scaly face is pulled back from the high wind, exposing his teeth. His eyes squint shut.

Nwa-beke is wearing goggles and has a determined look on her face as she screams--

NWA-BEKE

FASTER!

Another loud shockwave as the carpet accelerates.

EXT. OCEAN -- DAY

Our heroes on the raft hear the loud sonic boom.

BOOKER

That can't be good.

Jet Black screams from the sack.

JET BLACK

Let me out! Let me out!

Booker unties the sack and lets her get a breath of fresh air.

JET BLACK (CONT'D)

What was that horrible noise?

LAMONT

We don't know.

Ka-yo-de spots a fast approaching UFO -- it's the flying carpet with Nwa-beke and Mongo.

KA-YO-DE

Actually...we've got company!

BOOKER

Quick! Get back in the sack, Princess!

JET BLACK

Why?

BOOKER

To protect you in case Serpent Mongo uses his acid!

Booker helps her get back into the sack and ties it up again.

NATTI-DREAD

Incoming!

The flying carpet dive bombs at them. Nwa-beke raises her hand and fires off lightning bolts. They explode in the waves around the raft, causing it to heave and almost capsize.

The raft whooshes past the raft, causing a shockwave to stir up the sea into massive waves that pummel the small craft.

The flying carpet banks and comes around for another pass. This time, Mongo spits venom that rains down on the men and the raft. The men back away as the venom hits the bow of the raft, burning the deck.

LAMONT

If this keeps up, he will burn away our raft!

Again, the flying carpet buzzes them. This time the shockwave makes the ocean swell beneath them.

NATTI-DREAD

Oh God! They're creating a tsunami!

Ka-yo-de stands firm, holding the mast to keep the wind in the sail. He can spot the shore of Wazobia, far off in the distance.

KA-YO-DE

Hold on!

The swelling sea raises the raft to an enormous height. Ka-yo-de pilots the craft to catch the wave like a surfboard.

KA-YO-DE (CONT'D)

Natti-Dread! Steady the rudder!

Natti-Dread takes a firm grip on the rudder, bracing himself to hold it steady.

EXT. SKY ABOVE THE SEA -- DAY

ON THE FLYING CARPET

Nwa-beke and Mongo see the raft on the gargantuan wave.

NWA-BEKE

They're going to try and ride the wave to shore!

MONGO

HA HA HA!!! WIPEOUT!!!

EXT. OCEAN -- DAY

The enormous wave carries the tiny raft at high speed towards the shore. As the wave begins to crest, the raft tilts downward, going down the face of the wave in a steep angle.

BOOKER

AAAAAAAH!!! I'm afraid of heights!

KA-YO-DE

Hold on to the Princess!

Booker lets Jet Black out. She spots the steep hill of ocean that they are tumbling down.

JET BLACK

Oh...my...GOD!!!

Booker holds the princess and grabs on to some of the lashing from the raft.

Ka-yo-de has a determined look as he keeps the mast steady. Above them, the wave begins to break. They are about to go over and wipe out.

KA-YO-DE

Now, Natti! Hard to starboard!

Natti-Dread uses all his strength to pull the rudder to the right, causing the raft to bank and ride the wave within the tube as it breaks behind them.

Ka-yo-de looks out at the beach fast approaching. Behind him, the wave breaks to white foam.

KA-YO-DE (CONT'D)

Hard to port!

Natti-Dread swings the rudder the other way and they straighten up, riding the foam all the way in to shore.

EXT. WAZOBIA BEACH -- DAY

The raft ends up far up on the beach from the reach of the large wave. The sea pulls back and they have a moment to catch their breath.

NATTI-DREAD

That was...a close one!

The princess is speechless, but grateful.

JET BLACK

Thank...thank you.

KA-YO-DE

No time! They're coming in fast!

Ka-yo-de points back out to sea where the flying carpet approaches like a jet fighter. Another sonic boom and it accelerates.

BOOKER

Take shelter!

LAMONT

No! Take the shelter with us!

They leap off the raft and lift it up overhead. Jet Black gets out of the sack. They all begin running off the sand and onto dry land, towards the Wazobian forest, using the raft as a shield from aerial bombardment.

EXT. WAZOBIAN FOREST -- DAY

Our heroes and the princess are running through the forest as the carpet comes in fast. Nwa-beke fires off more lightning bolts that split the trees around them.

ON THE FLYING CARPET

Nwa-beke squints from the sunlight in her eyes.

NWA-BEKE

Blast it! The sun! Bring us around, carpet!

The carpet banks right to come in at a better angle.

IN THE FOREST

Our heroes carry the raft as they continue running, Jet Black keeping pace in between them, and keeping her head low. Agama the lizard is riding on her shoulder now.

ON THE CARPET

Mongo has an idea.

MONGO

Time for a ground assault! Bring me in!

The carpet does another dive bomb. This time, the trees are too thick for an aerial bombardment; the raft and their prey disappear into the foliage.

As the carpet levels off, Mongo leaps from the rug and goes into a tumble and roll along the ground like a ball.

IN THE FOREST

Mongo, rolling, heads towards the sprinting heroes, gaining on them like a bowling ball heading for pins.

The heroes look behind them, seeing Mongo fast approaching, and they all go to the right. Mongo rolls past, then uncurls into his full height. Mongo leaps in a rage and swings his tail, snapping the raft into two pieces and separating the group.

ON THE CARPET

Nwa-beke comes in for another pass, this time she fires lightning bolts into the ground, causing an earthquake and the ground to split open. As this happens, the sea rushes in to fill the fault.

IN THE FOREST

Our heroes have split up--literally. The earth splits between them -- on one side are Ka-yo-de and Natti-Dread with one half of the raft; the other side has Booker, Lamont, Jet Black with Agama and the other part of the raft.

Mongo is on the left side of the crack, chasing after Ka-yo-de and Natti-Dread.

The sea rushes in to fill the chasm.

Mongo catches up to his quarry and swings his tail again, batting the raft out of Ka-yo-de and Natti-Dread's hands. The raft hits the water and begins to flow downstream.

KA-YO-DE

Natti! Jump!

Ka-yo-de and Natti-Dread jump to the broken raft, grabbing it like driftwood as they travel downstream.

On the other side, the others look behind them to see Mongo has stopped chasing. The new river is too wide for him to leap across and he just stares at it. The three of them stop in their tracks and turn around.

JET BLACK
Why is he not chasing us?

LAMONT
He can't reach us!

BOOKER
We are safe!

Not quite. Nwa-beke comes in for another pass, slowing down in time for Mongo to hop back on. Now the carpet comes after them.

LAMONT
Jump!

They toss their half of the raft into the new river and hop aboard. The current takes them downstream too as the carpet comes bearing down on them.

Further downstream, Natti-Dread and Ka-Yo-De are hanging onto their piece of the raft. They see the others fast approaching.

KA-YO-DE
Slow down! Let them catch up!

NATTI-DREAD
Agreed! We are stronger united!

They swim against the current, braking their velocity. The others catch up with them.

LAMONT
I thought we had lost you guys!

NATTI-DREAD
Quick! Hold steady!

Natti pulls out his trusty hammer and some nails from his pocket.

KA-YO-DE
How do you have your tools?

NATTI-DREAD
A good carpenter is always prepared.

Natti-Dread quickly makes a repair to the raft, reattaching their section.

The two of them climb up onto the raft which continues drifting downstream.

But the carpet is picking up speed. Nwa-beke holds her hands up. They are glowing as she recharges her lightning.

ON THE CARPET

Nwa-beke is charging up.

NWA-BEKE

I have you now!!!

ON THE RAFT

Our heroes are out of options. They can only stare as the flying carpet comes bearing down on them.

Agama the lizard has a determined look.

Nwa-beke shoots fireballs from her hands that hit the mast of the raft, turning it into splintered fragments. The carpet bears down on them as she raises her hands to recharge again.

As the carpet passes low overhead, Agama leaps from Jet Black's shoulder and grabs the carpet with its mouth, biting ferociously into the rug as it gains altitude in a vertical climb.

The carpet curls up as if in pain, knocking Nwa-beke and Mongo off balance.

Agama bites harder and the carpet spins out of control in a barrel roll, plummeting into the wide river with a mighty crash.

As the carpet soaks with water, it begins to sink as everything travels downstream till the river empties into a big saltwater lake.

Nwa-beke and Mongo cling to the carpet as it enters the lake. They sputter and gasp for breath as the carpet raises its stern like the Titanic. The two villains climb up on it to try and get out of the water.

The carpet sinks fast, and Nwa-beke and Mongo are left in the water to sputter and drown. The two evil ones sink beneath the water, leaving nothing but bubbles behind which let out green gas as they pop on the surface.

The raft with the men and Jet Black slowly drifts to the part of the lake where the villains went down with Agama.

Jet Black looks sad as she stares at the water where bubbles slowly come up from below.

JET BLACK

Agama...

It is a sad moment. The men gather around Jet Black to comfort her.

LAMONT

He was very brave.

BOOKER

Agama saved us.

Tears well up in their eyes.

NATTI-DREAD

We should say a prayer for him.

They all hang their heads low in a solemn moment.

Then...

A bubble from below...

Jet Black opens one eye to look at the water.

More bubbles...

She sees a small reddish form coming up from the depths.

JET BLACK

LOOK!

They all open their eyes and see Agama rise to the surface and leap onto the raft, catching its breath. They are overcome with joy; Jet Black weeping with delight.

Oh, my friend! You have saved us!

Agama jumps on her shoulder and she embraces the little lizard. The men have tears in their eyes as well.

KA-YO-DE

It is a good day.

LAMONT

Look!

Lamont points to the other side of the lake. There is another river and it goes all the way to the Wazobia village far off in the distance.

NATTI-DREAD

It seems that we have a quicker way home now!

BOOKER

Nwa-beke was good for something, it seems.

They share a laugh.

KA-YO-DE

Okay boys, paddle up. Time to go home.

The men pick up splinters from the broken mast and use them as paddles to row towards Wazobia in the distance.
